

Our mommy just can't get enough of us. When she is not home all she wants to be is at home with us. She doesn't even want to go on vacation. She even stayed home with us during Christmas. Our mommy wants the best for us and is always making sure we like our food since we are very picky eaters. We prefer salmon and turkey and don't like very cold food so she warms it for us.

She throws balls for us at 5am and she is not a morning person. She lets me have all her hair ties! We have 4 cat trees in one room and she is always looking for more fun things for the other rooms! I think we have more furniture than human furniture in our home.

She loves us and thinks we are so cute and fuzzy. She even wants to get us our own pet but I think she thinks we might eat it. I can't promise her we won't! But for now we stick to chasing bugs in the house and anything that dangles in front of us! She lets us sleep in the bed every night and even buys us own special blankets!!!

I am also glad my mommy adopted my best friend Buddy, because she didn't want us separated and I didn't want to be away from him. She didn't know about buddy until that day she was coming to visit me at the SPCA. We were so bonded we stayed in the same cage at the shelter which they said never happens.

I am glad she is our Mommy I wouldn't want anyone else.
