

Hey I'm Moose and you all know me because my mom brings me to you a lot. Meow. I want to nominate my mom for best Mom because ever since I was just a tiny boy that she rescued from this gigantic scary cage with lots of other cats telling me I may have to go in "the room" if I'm not adopted, I knew she going to be amazing. She was only 13 years old when I first met her. She cared for me when I was sick as a baby and then is when I fell in love. Meow. Ever since then she has always made sure I was healthy and happy with good food and all my annual visits. I've travelled with her to Baton Rouge for college, Houston for hurricane Katrina, back to New Orleans, to Barcelona, Spain...meow. And now I'm in Denver, Colorado! She takes me everywhere and she always makes sure I feel safe and that she would never leave me. She's my angel. She always knows when I'm not feeling well or when something is very wrong. Mother's intuition really is a real thing! When I got sick almost 3 years ago with kidney disease, she brought me to Dr. Cousins. Him and all the lovely nice ladies have saved my life and made me strong and happy so I can still be with my mommy. If it weren't for her, I wouldn't be here today to be loved by her. I know I cost her a lot and sometimes I've even emptied her bank account...I'm not sure how money works but I feel like this means she's the best mommy ever. Sometimes I think at my age of 16, I am living completely on her love alone. She wants me to live a lot longer and I plan on it too. She makes me so happy. Meow. I've been through a lot within the 16 years of living and I've watched my mom go through many different things in her evolving life. I'm happy I could be there to cuddle her when she's sad and watch her smile when she's happy. I know I make her just as happy as she makes me. Meow. Please allow my mommy to win the prize because I'm just a cat and I can't work to pay for a gift for her for Mother's Day. In the past, I've just made sure I was still there to cuddle at night with her...I know that always makes her happy but this year I'd like to do something different! Please help meow out! Thank you place I never like to come to but I know it's for my own good.

Meow, meow, meow,
Moose Burke
