

9.28.18

We all know kitty carriers
Are a cat's worst enemy
Just seeing one may make us hide
Or turn our tails and flee

It's nothing personal you know
That we act the way we do
If you got shoved into a cage
Then you'd be angry too!

But what if carriers could be
Our home away from home?
A cozy place where we can rest
Wherever we may roam

It's possible my feline friends!
Just tell your human how
We'll teach them all the tips and tricks
To really help you out

Keep the carrier in a room
Where kitty spends her time
That way she'll get familiar
While relaxed and feeling fine

Put all her favorite toys in there
And fuzzy blankets too
The comfier the better
So she'll want to take a snooze

Then go for car rides frequently
Together with your cat
And after each one give her
Lots of treats and loving pats

For trickier cats use Feliway
Or other hormone sprays
They help to make us feel at ease
Instead of scared and dazed

But if these things don't work just yet
Be patient, don't lose hope!
It takes some time for us felines
To say "yes" instead of "NOPE!!!"

Just give us time and your support
And we'll soon come around

The carrier can be a haven
Where we're safe and sound

Over and out,
Raptor 🐞🐞