So what's a foreign body?
What's it got to do with cats?
Today we'll cover all the things
You need to know for that!

A foreign body can be string,
A ribbon, or some thread
From pipe cleaners to dental floss
And plastic ties for bread

If you see your cat "loafing", vomiting
Or hiding more
And if you know your kitty's
Swallowed weird objects before

Bring them right in, don't wait and see
Or try to let it pass
These objects cause us lots of pain
And make us sick quite fast!

Doc uses x-ray imaging
To find out what's gone wrong
And safely takes the object out
So we don't suffer long

Now if you know your cat's the type
With adventurous taste
It's best to take the cautious route
And cat-proof all your space

Howdy folks! This is Raptor reporting live from 1809 Magazine with information about the FBI - that's right, Foreign Body Ingestion! With Mardi Gras over, we know there's lots of decorations and costumes to be put away for next year - and that means feathers, strings, sewing thread, confetti and all sorts of other materials may end up in your cats' mouths - and potentially their tummies. Be watchful for unusual behaviors from your cat, particularly abdominal guarding or sitting in a "loaf" position - a hidden tummy may mean an unhappy tummy!

Over and out,
Raptor
