

9.6.19

This week we've got exciting news
And it's about our Doc
He's going to a big conference
Where he's been asked to talk!

He'll speak to vets from all around
About heartworm disease
And why prevention for us cats
Can keep us safe with ease!

It's quite an honor to present
The feline point of view
And Doc has years of expertise
With cats like me and you

Next Wednesday he'll be at the mic
Informing other vets
So he can show all that he knows
To keep us free from pests!

Howdy folks! Raptor here reporting live from 1809 Magazine with a special news bulletin! Our very own Doctor Cousins (or Doc as he's known to all his feline friends) has been asked to sit on a panel of veterinary specialists at the National Heartworm Society's triennial conference! In order to provide his unique and expert perspective at this important conference, Doc will be out of office this coming Wednesday the 11th. The Cat Practice will open again for normal hours Thursday the 12th!

Over and out,
Raptor 🐾🐾